Irvington Grammar School

The above picture shows our school building. Into this building eight years ago a class of some twenty or thirty little children entered for the first time in their young lives. Now just eight years later we are about to graduate and leave behind the memory of happy days and pleasant memories.

This school building was erected in 1922.

There are six teachers employed in our school, including our principal, Mr. Scales. We also have a music teacher, Mrs. Foster, who instructs us in vocal music once a week.

Mr. Scales has been our principal throughout our Grammar School days. During these years we admired him as a principal and friend at all times, but it was not until our Eighth Grade Year that he became our advisor and teacher.

Christmas Operetta

"The Lost Doll", our Christmas Operetta was presented on Dec. 12, 1934, in the Washington Union High School Auditorium. It consisted of a large cast and was very well presented.

The setting was the interior of a gift shop where a modern young mother with small daughter visits the gift shop to make Christmas selections. With the aid of the Personal Shopper an employee of the shop, many attractive "gifts" are brought to the display room. The unique singing groups lend a brilliancy to the setting. After the Doll Parade a very expensive doll is missing. This creates an exciting situation. Following some spirited dialogue and quick action a happy climax is reached when the "Lost Doll" is found and the entire cast joins in the final chorus "We're On Our Way to Your House."

Our Trip to San Francisco

One bright sunny morning the members of the Eighth Grade Class left on our annual trip to San Francisco.

We were driven to Oakland and from the pier was taken across on the boat. All members of the class were quite interested in the construction of the San Francisco Bay Bridge. This bridge, when completed, will be the largest bridge in the world.

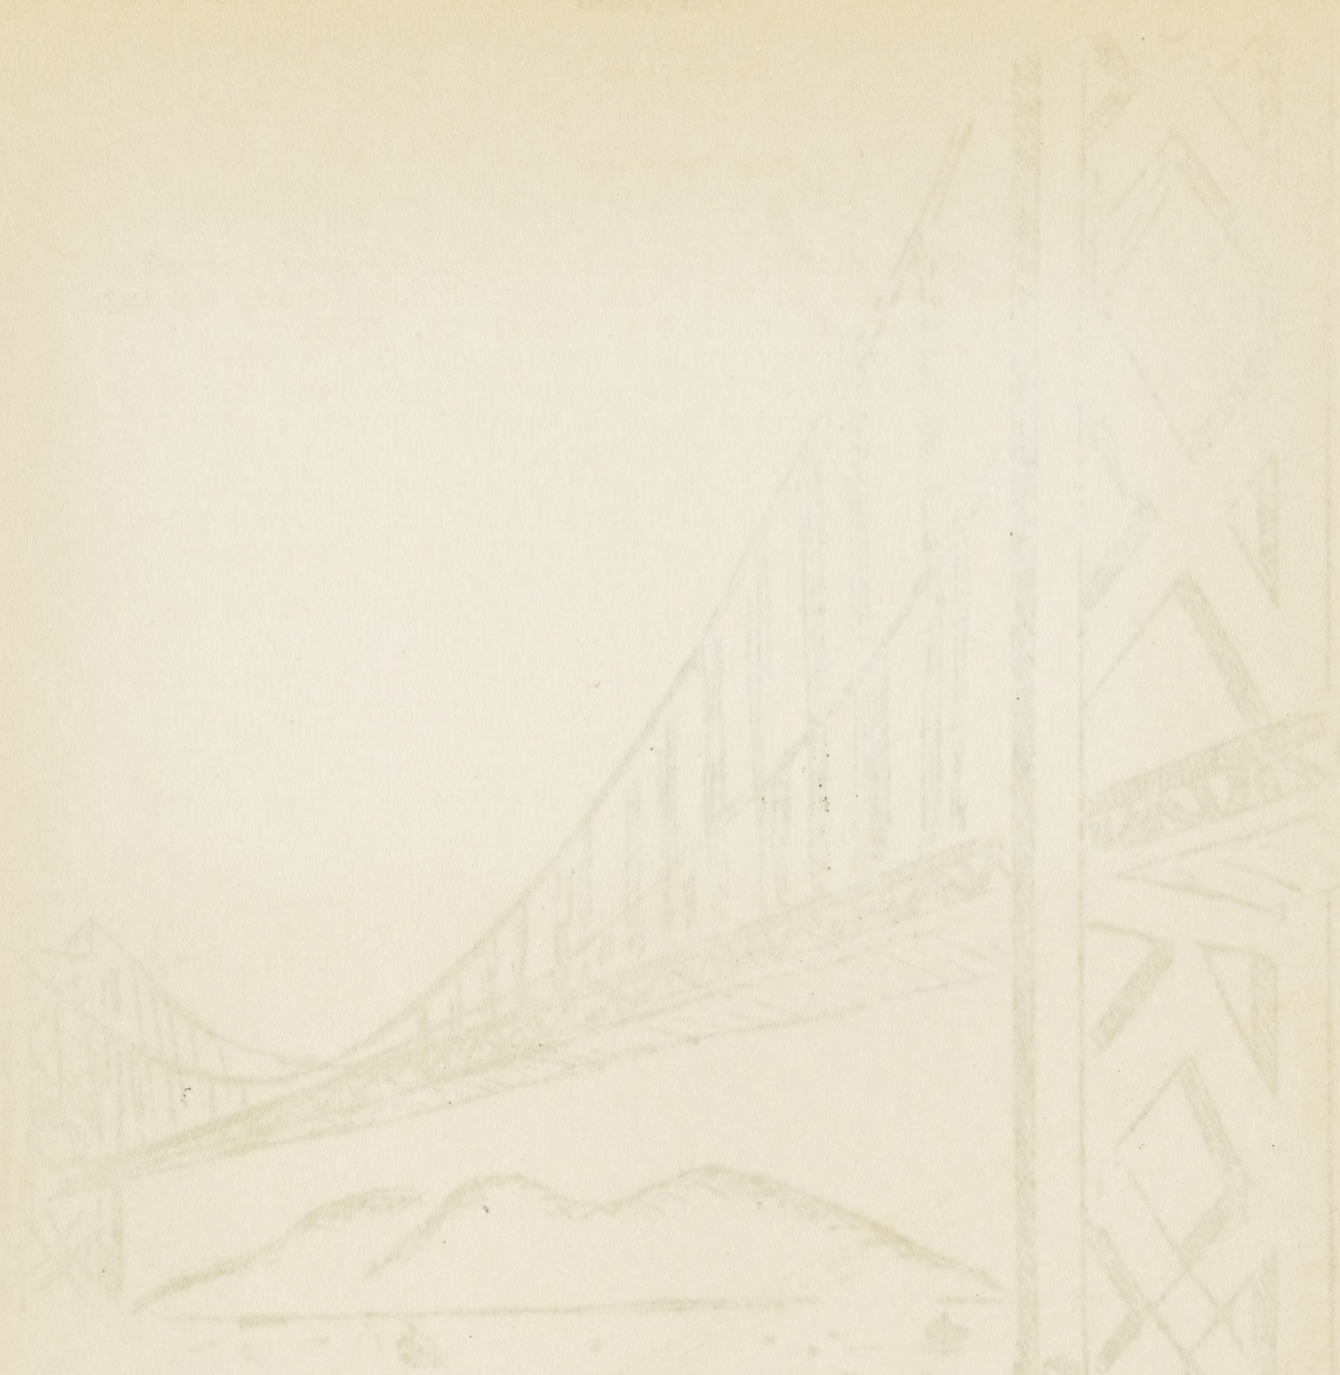

Our next interesting view was that of the Presidio, where we saw many soldiers and cannon balls. We were quite interested in the various sizes of cannon balls to be seen here.

We then drove through Golden Gate Park and admired the beauty of this marvelous park. We also visited the museum and aquarium here.

After eating our lunch at the beach we spent some time at the various concessions, where all had a fine time.

Returning by the way of the Dumbarton Bridge all reported having a perfect trip and one long to be remembered by our class.

June Operetta

Our June Operetta, the Palace of Carelessness is to be presented at the Washington Union High School on June 19, 1935. This operetta consists of two acts.

The scene is the great lost and found building of London Town, called the Palace of Carelessness. In this palace are found people whose careless ways have led them into trouble. At mid-night, all things therein frolic for one hour.

Mr. Clock strikes "twelve", stretches himself and awakens the other clocks and watches. They dance until the Fat Clock runs down. Then the Alarm Clock wakens everything in the shop and they all come to life at once.

Dolly Dimples, Stick Candy, the Monkey, the Colored Doll, the Umbrella and the Teddy Bear are all heard from. The Toy Soldiers march into parade, while the Vegetables break open their sack and come out singing.

In the Judge's Chamber, the Jury and Judge are in their places to pass sentence upon each one who comes in search of his lost belongings.

The Organ Grinder comes in search of his lost monkey and the sad looking Clown, looking for his laugh. A Boy Scout does his daily good turn by bringing in an old man who is hunting for his time-worn umbrella.

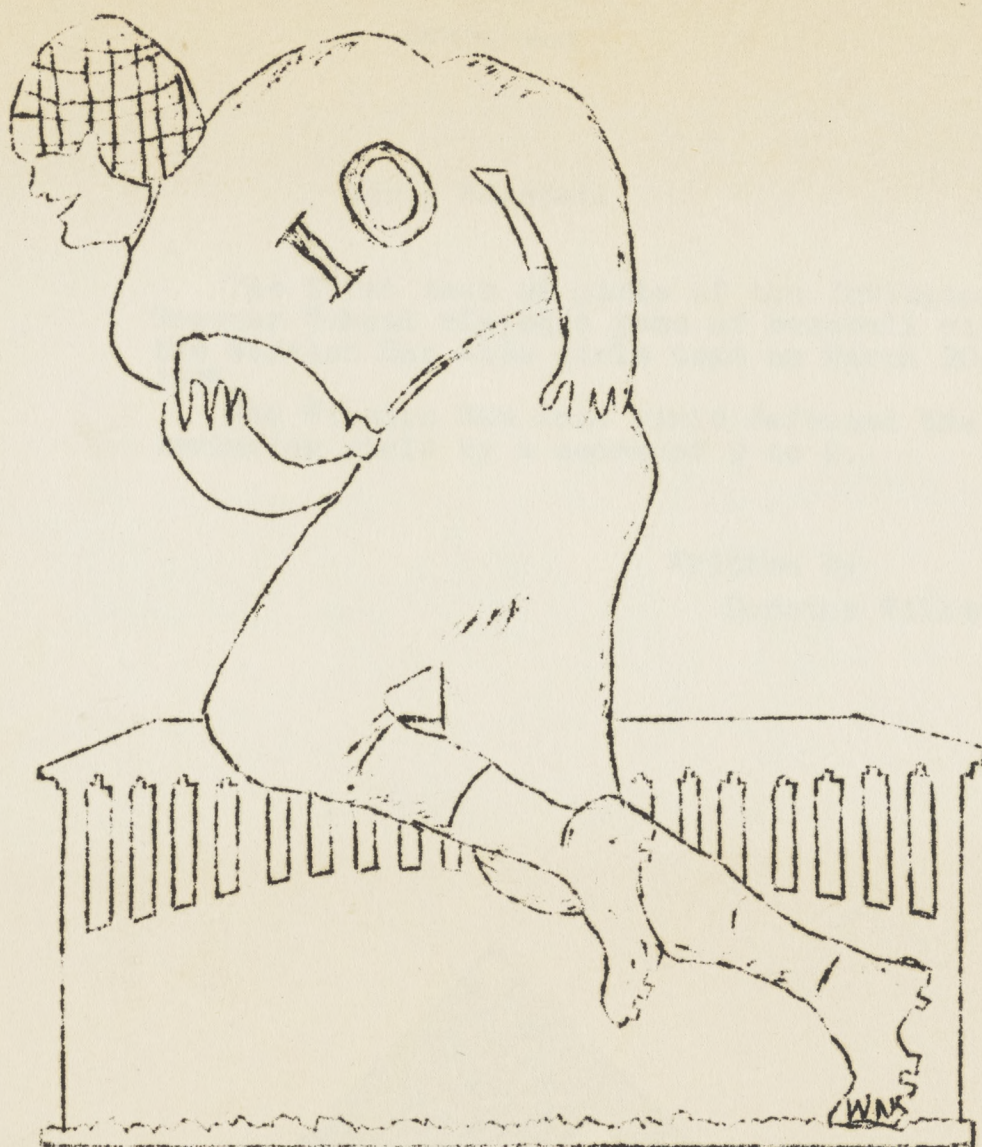

By the time they have left the palace they are cured of their troublesome ways and promise to be careful in the future.

Class Poem

Adieu

At last with many a sigh and heave,
The Irvington Grammar School we now leave,
The time has come to bid adieu
You to me and me to you.
The subjects we each one detest,
We'll put aside for a long, long rest.
When we say good-bye we feel so blue,
And bless our teachers for being so true,
But now my friends the time has come
To bid adieu to everyone.

I. Beloved Alma Mater, our thoughts around thee cling;
Beloved Alma Mater, thy praises high we sing.
The seasons roll away, We'll sing our loyal

For in thy torches' glare, shine Wisdom,
Power there

We love thine ivied towers, Thy quiet and peace-ful bowers. Halls of learning, loud our cry, "Alma Mater, Irvington.
